A life surrounded by water.

Rising above a picturesque bend of the Swan River, Minim Cove occupies a rare corner of land between the river and the sparkling Indian Ocean. There is simply no other location in Perth like it.

No wonder it's one of the most sought-after residential addresses in Western Australia.

Minim Cove's modern urban design has become the setting for some of Perth's most attractive homes, many of which are now well established amongst the sensitively landscaped streets.
